Art of Engagement, Milton Keynes

Who is it for?

It is aimed at leaders, directors and senior managers

How long is it?

A half day

What is the purpose?

To present your survey feedback, and provide contextual insight to your team of senior people who have a vested interest in fulfilling your organisational purpose and improving workplace engagement.

The day will start with a detailed walkthrough of the key headline feedback from your people focused around the 8 factors of workplace engagement. Within the session we also draw comparisons to relevant 'stretch benchmarks' and share best practice from similar organisations who operate in similar sectors and/or environments.

We will then open the conversation about the potential of your organisation using the Best Companies engagement model and how it relates to what your people are thinking, feeling and doing, on a day-to-day basis to help deliver on your vision. Breakout sessions and the opportunity to review best practice will ensure you leave the session with the ideas and inclination to do something differently in your workplace.

Who is the session facilitated by?

Jonathan Austin, CEO of Best Companies Ltd or Wayne Clarke, Managing Partner of Best Companies Partnership

How much does it cost?

Cost on application as session will be bespoke to your organisation's requirements.
